November 4, 2014

With the stress of cooking Thanksgiving dinner, Black Friday deals and all the traveling during the holidays, sometimes it is easy to forget the real meaning of the holidays. This is the season of giving.

From Nov. 12 until Dec. 4, Joe Cotton Ford will be reminding the community about the importance of giving during the holidays. For the past several years Joe Cotton Ford has always contributed to the Christmas Sharing Program. This is an event where Joe Cotton Ford will be collecting toys, gently used clothes, and canned goods for Carol Stream's Christmas Sharing Program.

On Dec. 5 at 4 p.m. the items that are collected will be taken to the Lutheran Church of Master to be distributed to the families that need that extra joy during the holidays.

The Christmas Sharing Program is run by churches to help provide assistance for families during the holidays. This organization helps all families regardless of their religious affiliation. According to their website, their mission is "to make Christmas a little more joyful for our neighbors in need."

Please be sure that if you have the opportunity to donate items you bring them to Joe Cotton Ford's location on North Avenue in Carol Stream. There also is a video at <http://joecottonford.com/Community-Awards/> further explaining the Christmas Share Program along with role the dealership takes.
